The Conegliano and Valdobbiadene Prosecco hills are officially recognised UNESCO World Heritage Site.

It is from these hills that come the precious grapes with which we produce the Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore DOCG Dal Din.

A local's guide to Treviso, Italy: 10 top tips

The British newspaper THE GUARDIAN mentions Spumanti Dal Din in an article dedicated to the 10 top tips for visiting the territory of Treviso. Dal Din is mentioned as a winery to visit in the area of Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore D.O.C.G. , where you can book guided tours and taste the excellence of the territory, which is now a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Immediately north of Treviso are the rolling hills that produce prosecco, recently given Unesco world heritage status. I advise visitors who come to our restaurant to take a day to explore the wine route up to Valdobbiadene, official capital of prosecco. Just south of there, on the Piave River, is Dal Din, which has been supplying Toni del Spin's prosecco for 40 years: it is open for visits, from a simple tasting to a full cantina tour. Nearly every winemaker here welcomes visitors, and one not to miss is Casa Coste Piane, which does a very different kind of bubbly, the lightly fizzy artisan col fondo, made with natural fermentation.

TRE DAME

VALDOBBIADENE

PROSECCO SUPERIORE D.O.C.G.
MILLESIMATO BRUT

This vintage wine is a "long charmat", produced with selected grapes of the Valdobbiadene hills. The 90-days second fermentation makes it creamy, fresh with floral crusty bread and yeast nuances. On the palate, it is dry, well-balanced and aromatic. It is excellent as aperitif, pairing with savory croutons, enhances and divinely accompanies a delicate fish menu. TRE DAME is part of the family selection, dedicated to the three "wine Women": Lena - Norma - Alessandra.

LENÀ

ROSÉ BRUT

VINO SPUMANTE

Lenà Rosè is not just a simple sparkling wine. It is a FAMILY SELECTION. A BRUT obtained from PINOT NOIR grapes and from a slow fermentation. It is considered a feather in the cap of our production. The bouquet is elegant with notes of wild berries and yeasts. Dry, harmonic, lasting and sapid in the mouth. The name Lenà is a tribute to the founding grandmother of Daldin Spumanti.
